WHAT IS GLOBAL PM DAYS?

Global PM Days is a 2-day online conference on project management bringing together world-class speakers from the project management profession. It is organized by IPMA Young Crew to support the growth of young project managers and students by providing an opportunity to learn from the world's leading experts and connect with like-minded individuals while ensuring easy and flexible access at an affordable price point.

The focus of the conference is on the people competences (personal and interpersonal competences required to successfully participate in or lead a project) of IPMA ICB®, the IPMA Competence Baseline.

In the 4th edition on May 29-30, we are going to explore the topic of Resourcefulness.

ABOUT IPMA YOUNG CREW

IPMA Young Crew is a key component of IPMA's growth and development of the leaders of tomorrow. We are a vibrant global network for young professionals enthusiastic about project management, and a platform for young project management professionals and students up to the age of 35.

The revenue will cover organizational costs and fund future IPMA YC projects focusing on developing project management as a discipline and promoting best practices within the community. In addition, 1 euro per sold ticket will be donated to the educational projects of the Children International to mitigate the socio-economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Support us with the mission to create opportunities to develop and advance competences!
